National Bank has already received treasury bonds for 5,640,000 dollars, the balance remaining at order of Government to cover deficit.

Further announced that Barings will take charge of mortgage certificates, formerly Cedulas to launch them in Europe at shareholders meeting of Obras Company.

The following gentlemen were elected directors: Jose M. Guerra, A. P. Bell; Suplentes, Enrique Stewart, Alfredo Villegas, Juan Dillon, Hermann Thode, R. Gurmendez; accountants, S. Miicellini, Horacio Areco. 51,397 shares registered; 2325 votes taken.

Next to nothing doing on Bolsa; Obras closed 26; National Bank rose to 96 and closed 93. Others as before.

Weather intensely cold.

AFFAIRS IN URUGUAY.

When the progress of Argentina was soaring at its highest on the artificial basis of paper inflation, it was apprehended with some reason that the contagion of forced currency would cross the water and infect the neighboring tight little republic. This apprehension was enhanced by the fact that large amounts of Argentine capital had invaded Montevideo and created a speculation which, for want of adequate support in the very market in which it was started, burst like a soap bubble and produced a stock and money crisis. Our Oriental neighbours, however, wisely stood to their guns and refused to budge from their firm position on the basis of specie payments. How far they were right they can glean from the present unfortunate state of affairs on this side of the river. They have their own financial afflictions, their restriction of credit, tightness of money, crisis in stocks and real estate, but they are far from suffering the calamities that are burdening the national shoulders of Argentina. They are not only on a much firmer financial basis, but they progress in spite of all their difficulties: their revenue and their trade are increasing, whilst here they are decreasing. With a population not one-sixth that of this country, their trade figures are close on the heels of those of Argentina with twenty times the extent of territory, one hundred times the wealth, and with possibilities and potentialities that quite eclipse Uruguay.

We see by the Montevidean papers that the Uruguayan budget has been fixed at 16,700,000 dollars, say 17,200,000 dollars m/n gold, say 41,280,000 dollars m/n depreciated paper money, with gold reckoned at 140 per cent premium. We see the Uruguay Customs' receipts average one million dollars per month, verily on a par with the monthly average of the Buenos Aires Custom House, if we except last month when an extraordinary and enormous accumulation of goods flowing in under the threat of the gold duty law swelled the returns to six millions paper, say 2½ millions gold.

Let Argentine Ministers of Finance learn a lesson from the Banda Oriental. Let them hearken to the emphatic statements of President Herrera, who says that forced currency is a curse to the country. Let them learn that on a basis of forced currency no country can progress; it at first remains stationary, and then goes backward. Happily for our Oriental neighbors, forced currency cannot thrive on their soil, for no Government decree could induce the people to accept depreciated paper money. And those who believe that the present money and stock crisis in the Mount will finally lead to a suspension of specie payments are much mistaken, for no Government could face the consequences of such a measure in Montevideo; it would lead to revolution and chaos, both forcible guarantees that no "curso forzoso" is possible on the other side of the Plate.

LONDON LETTER.

LAND PURCHASE (IRELAND) BILL.

THE GOVERNMENT TRIUMPH.

(From our Own Correspondent)

May 3rd.

The second reading of the Land Purchase Bill was passed on the 1st inst. by a majority of 80. Setting aside some abstentions and absentees who paired, the Unionist and Conservative parties voted all but solid for the Bill, and yet there were not two of them who thoroughly liked it or could have agreed together on its main objects. Mr. Balfour himself, as we know by his previous speeches and writings, is adverse to peasant proprietorship in land, and accords to that system only a qualified success in France, where the soil and products are better adapted to subdivision of properties than in these islands. Mr. Macartney, the Conservative member for South Antrim, openly and honestly opposed the Bill. He warned the Irish landlords that it would be the ruin of any of them not possessing an annual rental of £5,000. Mr. Chamberlain, in pretending to support it really condemned the Bill on the ground that it hypothecated moneys belonging to the Irish rate-payers to compensate one set of landlords and create another, without first giving to the Irish people local Government and a voice in the administration of their own funds. Mr. Chamberlain, nevertheless, after delivering a clever speech unusually free from rancour, but specially offensive to his Tory friends, voted for the Bill.

As for the opposition, there was virtually none. Mr. Sexton on the last night of the debate spoke incisively respecting the stock objections that had already been advanced. Mr. John Mosely made a powerful speech, as Mr. Gladstone had done before him, but there was a hollowness in all sounding like a fiddle from which some wag, such as A. J. Balfour, had withdrawn the sound post. As for Mr. Parnell, he had disappeared into one of his mysterious retreats since he presented his own counter-scheme which Mr. Goschen had half a mind to appropriate and tack on to the government measure. To everyone's astonishment Mr. Parnell turned up in the House as the members were returning from the division lobbies. In fact, as many foresaw, the government policy proved to be clever. It may appear strange that the leaders of the opposition did not see the bent of it at once and take council together for amending the Bill and passing it. They certainly did not see. They fought each for his own hand and in the old belief that no good thing could come out of Nazareth. It has been left for Mr. Davitt to show in the Nineteenth Century that the new Tory Government Land Purchase Bill is passed on lines absolutely formulated ten years ago at a Conference of the Land League held in Dublin. He prints certain portions of both bills in parallel columns. There is no mistake. Of course Mr. Davitt's object is to demonstrate that whether similar legislation be the work of a Tory Government or of an Irish Land League, the tendency is the same. A clause may be inserted here to secure the large landowners from absolute confiscation, and another clause may be added there to get more or less better terms for a limited number of tenant purchasers. The Tory Government may think it worth while to sacrifice the views of its supporters and its own previous views on the land question in general for the sake of the one and now acknowledged end of the Bill, to create a peasant proprietary in Ireland, which has long been Mr W. H. Smith's panacea for the cure of agrarianism and socialist innovations; and indeed it is the very last cub the spoiler has to throw to the pursuing tigress. But in spite of all precautions the real end of the government measure will be land nationalisation. To the best of my knowledge all the absurdities existing in England in regard to land transfer, entail, primogeniture and settlement exist in Ireland. Imagine the effects of subdivision of properties accompanied by the intended unification of small holdings under such a legal system, and where landed property is already mortgaged to the amount of 160 millions sterling. The moment the last instalments are paid and the new tenantry are seated under parliamentary titles the old difficulties of tenure and disposal will rearise in an expanded form, and when these subjects become a question in Ireland they will arise in Britain and the new ideas will by that time be in the ascendant. This notion may or may not be true, but an inkling of something in the same direction seems to have hampered the old Liberals in their opposition to Mr. Balfour's Bill, and may have perhaps driven Mr. Parnell almost to the verge of lending his support to the government to settle the question for a time, in the knowledge that Home Rule or no, he is before all an Irish landlord and has the fears and feelings of his congeners.

The clauses in the Government Bill relating to the congested districts in the West of Ireland are almost a counterpart of the Land League's recommendations and are only criticised in certain details by Mr. Dillon, the sole Irish or opposition member who ventured to enter into that part of the question, although Mr. Balfour and Mr. Smith seemed to cry out from the first and above all to Mr. Parnell,—"you omit to notice our excellent clauses in regard to the congested districts." The government well knew it was feeding the opposition with its own cubs, and it had to eat or reject, and either way it was defeated. There will still be a fight in committee; but the Committee on the Tithes Bill is to precede it. The House will not go into Committee on the Land Purchase Bill until June; and the Government will again prevail unless in the meanwhile the Opposition pulls itself together. A well-informed Irish member has said that at least 1000 material amendments may be moved on the Irish Land Bill in Committee. That fact I consider to be in favour of the Government, who may use the advantage of accepting small amendments in a Conservative sense, and dividing the Opposition on the larger issues. The one thing in favour of the Opposition is the time at its disposal to organise and to press the stronger points against the Bill with united purpose.

Mr. A. J. Balfour, before the final debate, had, in anticipation of a triumph, lolled more æsthetically than usual and was more insolent than usual. He absolutely smiled when Mr. T. P. O'Connor talked virtuously of dynamite; for which tacit insinuation this gentleman took him to task. Balfour stretched out his legs all the straighter, put his delicate hands deeper into his pockets, and assured the hon. member that he "had made no suggestion". When Mr Balfour rose to make his final reply, the Conservative side of the House was so crowded that some of his supporters had to take refuge on the Liberal benches. He commenced in a somewhat dull and prosy style, which caused Sir William Harcourt to shake his head and mumble some ominous criticisms. Mr. Balfour so far forgot his native humour as to rouse the first boisterous and ironical cheer from the Irish members by making a commonplace allusion to early marriages as a cause of congestion in the poorer districts in Ireland. He made matters worse by too seriously assuring the honorable members opposite that—"he still adhered to the opinion that, even in Ireland, some of the responsibility of having children rested with the parents." The Irishmen screamed with laughter at this rare bit of a too subtle Scotch "weet." The remark, "even in Ireland," might have been intended to be satirical. If so, the satire was lost in the apparent sawneyism. Mr Balfour finally succeeded in tickling the House, already inclined to be hilarious, by an allusion to the possible advent in Ireland of leaders of the people who "knew not Joseph." In newspaper language "the House was convulsed." Sir William Harcourt's cheeks, paunch and colossal head shook and tossed for some minutes. "Joe," who had just been snubbed all round and was sitting on his hat in a corner of the front bench, tried to look unconscious of the uproarious merriment.

Mr. Balfour in the course of his speech had to submit to many long interruptions, questionings and rectifications, and even from Mr. Gladstone, who was exceedingly fidgety under some of the Irish Secretary's brilliant home thrusts. Mr. Balfour replied and parried with success, and the world gives him credit for his success. Lord Hartington, after his trip to Egypt, was less lethargic than usual, even if a little more morose and pig-headed, and more visibly filled with the true British patrician scorn for lower creatures and the Irish in particular, who he seemed to think ought to be content with what crusts were thrown to them. So much did this defiant feeling appear in his words and manner, that Mr. John Morley, on rising, to make, as it proved, one of his best parliamentary orations, said that if the speech we have just heard (from Lord Hartington) meant anything at all, it meant a "declaration of war."

Subsequently, one or two gentlemen got up to say that they did not intend to say anything but meant to reserve their opinions until the Bill was in committee. Then came the division; and yet another Irish Land Bill, yet another concession from the wolves to the lambs, yet another effort of the self-righteous to do justice to their fellow-men at the smallest possible sacrifice to themselves, passed into a second stage. Until the third stage arrives it appears to me we can go trout-fishing or turn our attention to the pictures in the Royal Academy exhibition, or to the Italian opera. The London season opens in charming May weather.

PARIS LETTER

(From our own Correspondent.)

April 26

The question is being discussed, has the very successful reception given to the President in his tour just completed in the South of France and at the Italian frontier been a personal testimony of esteem to M. Carnot, or a tribute of approbation towards republican institutions? But perhaps it would be well to fix in the foreground of facts the marked and respectful welcome with which the bishops and their clergy received to the Ruler of France, and while recording their deep attachment to the country, expressed their opinion, that a love of religion was not inconsistent with the truest patriotism.

Certainly, there are not many attractive elements for the crowd to fasten upon in M. Carnot's character. He has no marked abilities: he inherits no traditions of a populace-striking kind: his manner is uninviting, due to the coldness of temperament; his reticence proceeds not from the caution imposed by high station, but from a sheer timidity lest he might unconsciously compromise his functions by any unstudied act. Of eloquence, he has none. Yet, notwithstanding these drawbacks, if he be not popular, he is not all disliked. Everyone feels he always does his best, and that his ideal and ambition are to be believed he is so employed. He does nothing to reflect on the dignity of his high position; he is stranger to everything niggardly and mean; he does not put his political flag in his pocket, nor yet does he flaunt it in the face of adversaries. He maintains that all parties can serve France, though only one party can govern; and last, not least, he is correctness itself in private, in family life. As for his straightforwardness and honesty, they have become a proverb.

The monarchists frequently hit the Republic through Thiers; the extreme Republicans chanted few hymns in his honour. MacMahon, in his presidential trips, was not treated with much ceremony; he was viewed as the symbol of all that was not republican, though no one could exactly say what form of one-man powerism he embodied, since all pretenders alike blarneyed, used and abused him. Grévy was sepulchrally correct, and his Roman-like rigidity of temperament left no loopholes in his public character, till he committed the great blunder of his life, associating the misdeeds of a son-in-law with the responsibilities of his presidential station.

In the South of France there are extreme Republicans and no-surrender Royalists; in Corsica there are right-divine Bonapartists; yet no hostile feeling was indulged in. The number of red, white and blue dressed little girls that M. Carnot had to kiss was legion; in Corsica the inhabitants bathed him in showers of rice to express how he was welcome, and this was succeeded by douches of wheat to symbolize the plenty of the island. From Autiles to Nice the cannon that saluted the President had their rims wreathed with violets, orange blossoms and roses. If at the dinners and dejeuners no hosannahs were indulged in for the Republic, this was due to the fact that the company was mixed. The tour has been not only a score for M. Carnot personally, but also for the constitution he represents.

The passionate abuse that Prince Jerome Napoleon has addressed to M. Carnot because he dared to visit the cradle home of "mon oncle" is the best evidence of the hold the present institutions have on the country. People when angry are generally wrong; but the prince's anger is all of the stage kind, and stagy into the bargain. It is the roar of Bottom and Weaver, and easily recognized. That imperial Othello's occupation is gone, and in disputing the peculiar invective hitherto supposed to be a monopoly of Rochefort, the prince adds nothing to his reputation and brings no grist to his party. As a Catherine's wheel to illuminate the candidateship of some of his friends at the Municipal elections it is not even amusing. But it will recoil on the "martyr of Clairvaux," as the Orleanists facetiously designate the young prisoner Duke. Public opinion will be convinced that no concession will secure the obedience or the adhesion to the present form of government of a minority that wishes to overturn it without being able to replace it by any authority capable of existing beyond the life of the rose.

A sympathetic journal, in a wing of its office devoted to curiosities, from the photo of Emperor William to the fossil bone of a Siberian elephant, exhibits the photo of the Duc d'Orleans behind a small, iron barred window for frame. It does not draw either a sigh or a tear from any spectator. Another newspaper gives the reply to this attempt to manufacture political sympathy by exhibiting a likeness of the Duchess of Berry and of Prince Louis Napoleon, behind the iron bars of the prisons of Blaze and Ham, where they were incarcerated—also for breaking the law—by Louis Philippe, great grandfather to the young Duke, who has in his prison at Clairvaux all that human nature could desire in the way of creature comforts and family and friendly calls, save that he cannot go outside the walls. His father, the Comte de Paris, has delivered a little speech in England before his retainers, wherein he has indulged—though more measuredly than Prince Napoleon—in a kick at the Government. That will hardly aid the liberation of his son. Both are simply cries of anger from pretenders without hope—and the latter, we know, is the only medicine for the miserable.

The First of May Manifestation will not involve the peace of the city; it is a calling out of the multitude of a new kind; but, save a few anarchists, no one desires either rows at home or wars abroad. The police are quite prepared to deal with any organised disorder. It is unknown what hold this socialist move has upon the real, the sober, the conservative—if I may use the word—working men of France, who rely on the fermentation of their reforms in the public mind, through the agencies of the press, national meetings and parliamentary imitation. Although Australia (Victoria) has since some years adopted the eight hours per day for labor, that cannot be introduced into an old part of the globe like Europe, by the mere touch of a Prospero's wand. The multiplicity of interests, linked and interlinked, forbid this violent change. In some years, use and custom may be fined down to the adoption of the new time-table, but, at present, it is complicated with the wages question.

Many visitors are arriving in Paris to witness how the French will keep the 1st of May, which International Pan-Laborism has decreed as a fete day. That a multitude of persons will be in the streets—provided the weather be fine—is certain: that they will not be allowed to impede circulation is equally so; that the triangular red-leather cockade, with its device in bad orthography will have an enormous sale—one sou each—is equally certain, and that prudent people would do well to keep inside doors is a counsel certain to be followed.

Perhaps the most imposing demonstrations will be in the centres of industries not in the large towns. Except in Austria where events are drifting to a sharp crisis no positive danger from the observance of the holiday is to be apprehended. May-day 1891 will be a mere business gathering; the experiment of the universal holiday and its results will then be to the fore. In France the tendency of labor-reform is to secure the founding of cooperative systems for production, and also for the purchase of food supplies; next, the desire for the profits' sharing plan, that has given such admirable results, where the conditions for its success are observed.

The Dahomey little war is augmenting in irritation; its diagnosis is proceeding on pure Tonkin lines: bungling into strife, bungling to get out of it; concealing or doctoring the despatches. It is much to be deplored, that the French cannot support bearing the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth of any difficulty in which they may be involved, or in any quarrel in which they may be embroiled. Sooner or later the facts will become known. To treat the people as children, and to view reverses with ostrich strategy are unworthy of any rulers. An expedition must now be fitted out; the King of Dahomey, like China, has too been viened as a "quantite egligeable;" the correcting of the error must be paid for. Now there are only two "black points" for France; reluctance to adopt a soothing system towards the religious scruples and prejudices of very many, including moderate republicans, and next and the greatest, plunging into fresh outlay. Over and over again I have brought under the notice of your readers that France, at the rate she is running into debt, has before her the certainty of a Laocoon moment of torture.

There is nothing extra guncottony in forign relations; France like her neighbors works and lives under arms. If the Emperor of Germany takes up Quaker doctrines after his plunge into Socialism, and insists on the beating of spears into pruning hooks and swords into ploughshares, he will not find the French to oppose his programme.

As for the Egyptian question, nothing need be expected; two principles are in opposition; France wants to gain a foothold in the Nile valley that she deliberately quit, by a round-about return to the joint-control, and England is preparing to evacuate the territory in the second year of the millennium; but pending its arrival intends to work in with Italy and her chartered African Societies, to open up Equatorial Africa, and join hands with pioneers from the Cape.

There are reported to be some thousands of Buddhists in Paris though no person has ever yet seen one of their pagodas. As the base of Buddhism is self-restraint and universal charity, there can be nothing to gain by throwing over Christianity, which embraces both those virtues. However, in France the more things change the more they remain the same.

THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC AND WHEAT.

A recent letter by Mr. Atkinson to Bradstreet's points out a new source of wheat production, which he thinks may probably influence the markets of the whole world in time. He refers to the Argentine Republic, to the land lying upon the Parana and Paraguay rivers, and particularly to the Province of Buenos Ayres, which a correspondent of the Tribune has recently described as an unbroken plain of 121,000 square miles, adding: "In 1875 there were 825,492 acres cultivated, and now there are 5,899,895 acres mainly in wheat, but, amazing as the ratio of increase is, there is only one per cent of the entire area in tillage." Mr. Atkinson comments thus:

"One hundred and twenty thousand square miles would suffice for the production at our standard per acre of 500,000,000 bushels of wheat and 7,000,000 bales of cotton, with one-third of the land being then left over for other purposes. .... Our great manufacturers of agricultural tools and machinery are sending ploughs, harrows, harvesters and the like in huge numbers to be applied to the cultivation of the wheat, under such provisions that there will be no present limit to the product except the amount of labor and capital which can be secured for it. I know of one single order lately placed in this country for 25,000 steel ploughs."

The physical facts support Mr. Atkinson's conclusion that at no distant day large supplies of wheat might be sent to Europe from this region, into which Italian laborers and other immigrants from the south of Europe are pouring at the rate of 200,000 a year. With plenty of cheap labor, of modern implements, and of cheap land, this region would seem capable or competing with any other in supplying grain. The distance by ocean is no longer a serious obstacle, modern methods having so greatly cheapened transportation. Mr. Atkinson also says that railroads are being laid down with a speed exceeding the development of the system in India. But the transportation from extensive wheat-growing areas to the seaports must for a considerable time be costly, though the distances are not to be compared with those traversed by the wheat of Dakota or Minnesota before it reaches the ocean.

The climatic objection will occur to many. It was long reasoned that Northern wheat could not be transported by way of the Mississippi, because transit through the Gulf and tropical waters would injure it. But the wheat of India, of Egypt, of Australia and of California goes to Europe every year in competition with that of the Northwest. The population of the Argentine Republic has not been large, and out of 4,000,000 inhabitants not a large proportion has been industrially efficient. But the immigration means a new demand for labor, and in a short time that alone would suffice to insure a wheat crop of importance. The acreage now cultivated, according to the Tribune correspondent, should produce nearly 70 million bushels of wheat, or more than the two Dakotas have yet raised.

On the other hand, it is to be observed that this country, with all its production and rapid increase, does not yet appear to have supplied any considerable quantity to European markets. The British reports are so minute that shipments of 500,000 cwts from Chili in 1889 are separately mentioned. But there is no mention of imports from the Argentine Republic, and if the movement be included under "other countries" it cannot be very large, since the entire British imports from all these was 1,379,650 cwts in 1889, nor was it increasing, for in 1888 it had been 2,513,407 cwts, and in 1887 it was 1,322,237. In three months this year British imports from "other countries" have been only 217,493 cwts against 434,803 in the same months last year.

Organization of labor and organizing enterprise count for more than natural facilities. Whether the Argentine Republic has these essentials to a great development has not yet been manifested. In the extraordinary speculations which have recently disturbed the finances and industries of the country something has been seen of the governing and managing faculties of the people. It cannot be said that as yet the evidence is entirely encouraging. The Republic has done wonders in inviting immigration, building railroads, promoting banks, and encouraging speculation in land. But, most unhappily, it has involved its finances to such an extent that about three weeks ago the premium on gold rose to 211, but the sale of a Government railroad to a British syndicate reduced the premium to 165. The external debt of the Republic is about 110 millions, and the provinces have external debts of 150 millions, while interest is guaranteed by the Republic upon 95 millions of cedulas, and 230 millions more have been issued by a Government bank though not guaranteed. A debt of $146 per capita in these few items is a rather cumbrous one.

Moreover, enormous losses have been sustained, in consequence of the wild speculation in land thus fostered by Government with almost criminal recklessness. British authorities estimate that the fall in value of land has exceeded fifty per cent during the last year. "Large tracts are offered daily, and cannot find purchasers on any possible terms," says the London Economist of April 19th. The further issues of paper money have been stopped by the new Ministry within a few weeks, but an attempt to reduce the amount will be attended with very great difficulty. Railroad issues were also authorised by the Republic to an amount exceeding two hundred and fifty millions in a single year, and all these enormous burdens and losses have somehow to be borne by a population of about four millions, not by any means wholly of European energy, and with the Italians far outnumbering other European nationalities in the trading, business and laboring population.

It will be readily inferred that the future development of a nation under such circumstances is uncertain or at least irregular. A vast mountain of debt, a terrible fall in the price of land, a crash in speculation and a paper currency ranging from thirty-two to thirty-eight cents on the dollar in value in a single week do not tend to stimulate industries. Different conditions from these must exist, and for some years, before this region, however fertile, can rival our North-western States in supplying the world with wheat.—New York Commercial Bulletin.

A GREAT TOWER FOR LONDON.

In the autumn of last year, when visitors to the French capital were returning to this country delighted with what was undoubtedly the distinctive feature of the Exhibition—the Eiffel Tower—Sir E. Watkin and a small circle of friends, which included Mr. E. H. Carbutt, Mr. W. Mewburn, Mr. F. Pavy, Mr. R. W. Perks, Mr. H. D. Pochin, and Mr. T. A. Walker, conceived the idea of erecting a structure of even loftier dimensions within the metropolitan area. Early in November they announced their intention of offering prizes of 500 and 250 guineas respectively for the best and second best design and estimate for a tower of not less than 1,200 feet in height. It was stated in the conditions of competition that due power of resistance to wind pressure and adequate protection against lightning were prime essentials. Steel was the material preferred by the promoters, but the designer was not confined to the use of that or any other material. The tower was to be divided into such number of storeys as individual taste suggested, the only condition imposed being that adequate floor space should be arranged for, and that each storey should be capable of bearing the weight of restaurants and other offices. Safe and speedy lifts were to be introduced, supplemented from storey to storey by staircases. As a matter of information, it was mentioned that the Eiffel Tower had two Roux lifts to the first platform, which could raise together 2,400 visitors per hour; two Otis lifts, capable of carrying together 800 per hour; and one Edoux lift, from second to third platform, 800 per hour. As an illuminant, the electric light, of course, was to be employed. The competition was at first announced to remain open until the end of February, a date which, on the application of engineers in the United States and Canada, was extended to the middle of March. Ultimately between 80 and 90 sets of drawings were received by Mr. Alfred B. Garside, the secretary, although of these nearly twenty were, for obvious reasons, ruled to be not admissible for competition. Sixty-eight, however, remain for the consideration of the committee of jurors, which is composed of Mr. E. H. Carbutt, Sir Fredk. Bramwell, Sir Benjamin Baker, Sir Edward Harland, Prof. Alex. B. W. Kennedy, Mr. C. Lidkell, Mr. J. F. Meulton, and Mr. T. Verity. Thanks to the kindly co operation of the Drapers' Company, who readily acceded to the request to place their spacious hall at the temporary disposal of the committee, so many of the public as are interested in the project will have the opportunity of forming a personal judgment on the relative merits of the various designs. During the next week the drawings will be daily on view at the premises in Throgmorton street. They form certainly an interesting and in many respects a unique display, and one which engineers and mechanics at all events should make some attempt to visit. As to the commercial value of the designs, apart from their picturesque aspect, men of technical training alone can pronounce. Many which look attractive enough in colours on paper would prove faulty in construction when their details come to be worked out by practical men. Of the drawings as a whole it may be said that the majority incline to what, for lack of a better phrase, may be called the Eiffel principle; but this visitors are assured is due not so much to a spirit of plagiarism as to the fact that certain mechanical difficulties which are inevitable in a tower of so great height can only be overcome by generally accepted rules. Where a departure has been made from this dominating principle an octagonal base has often been adopted. But to this rule, in its turn, there are several notable exceptions. For instance, one exhibitor has sent in a drawing of a circular granite structure 700 metres in height and 175 metres in diameter, whilst another, hailing from Manchester, has based his idea upon the ruined tower of Atesh-Gah, at Firuzband, which can be ascended on foot by means of an inclined pathway winding round its four faces. One design, if adopted, would lead to the erection of what would look like nothing so much as a monster lighthouse on land. As a set off to this, a model of a steel mast, 1,200 feet high, stayed with steel ropes, has been submitted. A London competitor has detailed a steel tower on the general outline of Sir Christopher Wren's spire to Bow Church, Cheapside, whilst another apparently may be said to be indebted so far as outline goes, to the Clock Tower of the House of Commons. The designs range from a tower whose height is 2,000, and whose base would cover 64 acres, to one of 1,218 feet, which would have a base of 500 square feet. In more than one instance the base is covered with glass, forming a dome, capable of being laid out as a winter garden.

Railway Items.

The deeds of sale of the Western Railway will be signed to-day, and Mr Michael Tedin, on behalf of the Provincial Government, will begin to deliver the line to morrow. Several telegrams were sent yesterday to London announcing the fact, for it seems that our friends in London thought that the line was delivered long ago.

A telegram from Salta states that Engineer Berro left that city yesterday in the first locomotive run since the line reached Salta.

The railway to Jujuy will be opened next Sunday. Tremendous preparations are being made to fete the arrival of the locomotive.

The National Railway Board have advised Government to authorise the Buenos Aires and Rosario Railway to build a station at four kilometres from Pavon Station.

Three months' salary is to be paid to Mr. Courtaux, as interventor of the East Argentine Railway.

The kilometrage of the Central Entre Riano last month was 96,850.

In regard to Dr. Araoz's report on the Pacific Railway guarantee account, which we mentioned in our last, we may state that the decision of the N. R. Board not to pay the guarantee, unless the Company return 50 per cent of the gross returns since March 1889 to Government, was adopted at a meeting held on May 23rd. The Minister is at present considering the question, which may assume the proportions of a fierce legal tussle.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The cold eclipsed the crisis in public attention yesterday. The "pampero" in the morning cut like a razor, and blew off a good many hats. Furs and Scotch punch were extensively resorted to to keep up the caloric. In Montevideo they have had a fall of snow.

The habitues of Mammon's Temple were rather more cheerful yesterday, though here and there there was rather a lonely feeling about the loan, which was still doing, doing, but was not done. If it is not done soon, a good many people will be "done for."

Poet Guido y Spano was better yesterday, to the great satisfaction of his numerous friends.

The Tigre Boat Club meeting, which was called for to-day has been postponed till to-morrow, at the same hour, and same place.

The Grim Reaper is busy in well-known circles, the sudden and severe cold weather helping to sharpen his dreaded scythe. Yesterday's obituary included the names of Senator Moyano, Don Juan B. Cruz, Don G. Moutier, Mrs. F. de Segui, Don Jose Miguens, and Don B. G. Paz.

We have to thank the kind correspondent who corrects our statement that if Banda Oriental plunge into the shinplaster whirlpool, as seems by no means unlikely, there will be no specie-paying country left in South America. Our correspondent reminds us that the paper currency of Peru was abolished about two years ago.

We beg to thank a kind Quilmes subscriber for his nice present of 150 strawberry plants. We will plant them with tender care; and, if the crisis last till next summer, hope to be able to supply all our subscribers with strawberries (they must supply their own cream) free, gratis and for nothing.

In the train from Rosario on Wednesday evening there arrived two ex-Governors, one Senator, two Deputies, and one Vice-President of a Mortgage Bank, and also the new President of the Inspeccion de los Bancos. Happily there was no accident.

The opening of the Quilmes Hipodrome will take place on Tuesday week, 24th June (Feast day) on which occasion a very fair programme will be gone through. The Hipodrome is situated about 3 squares from Quilmes Station and consists of two separate race tracks, one round track, measuring 1200 metres, and one straight track for camp races up to 5 squares. The grand stand is now in course of construction, also "boleteria," "confiteria," paddock, exclosures for carriages, &c. &c. At the conclusion of the races various private matches have been arranged to come off. For "cartas de entrada" and other information apply to Agustin Parodi, Quilmes and in Buenos Ayres to A. Russell, Paseo de Julio 46, altos.

We were favoured with the following humorous note yesterday:—

Dear STANDARD,

You have often said that printers' errors are jolly good fun, and so many of them are made in your off-hand columns that old subscribers who know you from your infancy always wink when anything specially good (or bad) turns up. This morning was so cold that I remained in bed longer than usual, and having religiously gone through every line of reading matter, cast my eye here and there on your advertizement columns, and soon stumbled on a gem in the printer's error line. In the large advertizement of the True-Fit Company on your third page I found a testimonial from "A Master Mariner" who declares that he has had the article advertized in use for 312 years, in all climates" !! The mariner who signs must be "The Ancient Mariner," or more probably his great-great grandfather. But this p.e., funny as it is, is really nothing compared with the line lower down from the British Medical Journal, by no means a jocular paper, and which, of course, was quite innocent of anything in that line when it wrote that the instrument in question is calculated to come into general use!! May the Fates and the Faculty forbid.

Yours Trust-fully.
Moderately Ancient Subscriber.

The "Tiro y Gimnasio Oriental" will be inaugurated to morrow evening. We feel much indebted to the Committee for their kind invitation.

The annual general meeting of the British Hospital at Montevideo will take place this day week.

The Siamese, instead of cats, keep in their houses pet rats, which are taken very young and carefully reared, until they attain a perfectly monstrous size from good and plentiful feeding. These domestic rats are kept expressly to free the house of other vermin of their own race, and so ferocious are they in the onslaught they make that but few of the houses are ever annoyed by mice or rats.

The funeral of the late John Stuart, whose accidental death was noticed in our columns on Tuesday, was held on the same afternoon. The interment was held at the English Cemetery. A handsome subscription list was made up by the employees of Messrs. Agar Cross & Co. for a wreath befitting the occasion and also for a gravestone. Amongst those present were Messrs. H. Church, Cowan, Liddle, Nicols, Hilliard, and many others too numerous to mention.

A shivering American subscriber called on us yesterday to enquire "Where in thunder is the "fool-killer" who predicted some months ago that there would be no winter in the River Plate this year?" We are unable to give his local habitation or his name.

"Divorcons," with Judic, Huguenet and Duquesne will be repeated to night at the Politeama. Gabrielle to-morrow night. Between their flying visit to Rosario and their performances here, the members of the Coquelin company have had a very laborious week of it.

The death of three lady members of the Irish community was announced yesterday: Mrs Patrick Kenny (sister to Mr. John Cunningham) of Lobos; Mrs Thomas O'Reilly of Mercedes, and Mrs James Leonard of Salto. We offer their respective families our most sincere condolence.

Quarantine at Montevideo on vessels from Brazil will be abolished next week. Why wait till then? Flores Island is as bad as Siberia this weather.

The daughters of Eve are getting more manly every day. The latest sign of this is in Galitzia, where the women have sent a petition to Emperor Francis Joseph to be allowed to form a corps of Amazons in the Imperial army. Of course His Majesty will refuse, as he is known to detest manly women.

Small-pox is raging in Rosario as badly as in this city. The Reporter says that the spread of the foul disease is so alarming that the Armstrong School has been closed.

A cleric proposing for the hand and heart of our venerable Queen! We find the following in our London exchanges:—"A young man of clerical aspect, named Alfred Carter, of Nelson, near Burnley, in Lancashire, was brought before the Buckinghamshire magistrates yesterday, charged with being a wandering lunatic.—Inspector Savage, of the Royal Household Police at Windsor Castle, said he met the defendant on Tuesday near the Eton College playing fields, and showed him two letters that had been addressed to the Queen. These were produced as evidence. In one of the letters sent from Slough to Her Majesty at Windsor Castle the defendant appealed to her most gracious Majesty for pecuniary assistance, saying that she would never miss what would be to her a matter of such small importance, and that he was sure she would be amply repaid for her act of charity. Repeating his request for some money, the writer continued: "I also along with this make a proposition to you. There can be no earthly harm in asking you for your hand and heart in love and marriage, and hoping you will give your favourable consent to these questions.—ALFRED CARTER.—To Queen Victoria."

The famous panorama of the Battle of Plewna, at the corner of Calles Belgrano and Lima, will pack up and be off to pastures new at the end of this month, and we strongly recommend all who have not yet seen this great historical work not to miss it. The illusion is perfect. In Europe it created quite a furore.

The latest news from old Mendoza is that its petroleum is far better and of more practical use than the so-called coal of its neighbour, San Juan. Some of the "île" was tried the other day in an Argentine Great Western Railway engine. The exact results we have not yet heard; but, as the engine did not blow up, they may be considered satisfactory.

A married subscriber complains of the high price of "ducks." He says his wife recently paid for three of them—a duck of a bonnet, a duck of a dress, and a duck of a jacket. He thinks such operations in poultry will ruin him.

Archduke John of Austria, who lately threw all his titles and honours to the dogs and married the lady he loved, a commoner, has arrived in La Plata port on board his own vessel "La Sainte Marguerite." His Imperial Highness now sails through life under a wide-awake hat and the democratic name of John Orth.

Ex-Governor Paz has given an emphatic "nolo episcopari" to his political friends who wanted to plant him in a seat in Congress. The ex-Governor is wise.

Montevidean society is now all agog about the wedding of Dr. Bosch and Miss Theresa Santos, daughter of the late General Santos, which will take place on Wednesday next. The bride's mother has bought as a present for her a black diamond that cost 6,000 dols. gold.

Our talented young friend Mr. Francis Hargreaves is again before the public with a new "zarzuela" entitled "Una noche en Loreta" in three acts; words by the well known Argentine dramatist Don Angel Meneliaca. We understand that this beautiful comic opera is to be put on the boards of the Onrubia theatre next month and hope to see a large attendance every night, as well on its own particular merits as a piece as likewise for the sake of the clever composer who has been aptly termed the Argentine Mozart.

A London colleague supplies us with the following interesting information about Brazilian funerals: "There are many curious customs observed by the Brazilians. Funerals are noted in that, for a young unmarried lady, coffin, hearse, and the livery of the driver must be bright scarlet; the four white horses drawing the hearse must be covered with scarlet nets, and scarlet plumes must deck the horses' heads. No women go to the cemeteries."

A La Plata reporter says that the contemplated "move on" to letter Q in the Cedula alphabet will not take place till Christmas, and will be timed to come in as a nice Box (not on the ear) for the hundreds of hungry applicants.

The idea of Bismarck being prosecuted for divulging state secrets was another of Galveston's queer items yesterday. If the old fox has divulged anything, it must have been to lure somebody into a trap for the exclusive benefit of Fatherland.

A curious belief obtains among the lower classes in the North of England that bread baked upon Good Friday will keep good for a whole year, and if grated and taken in water it is a remedy for various diseases. It is also believed that if a cross bun is broken by two friends, each keeping half, they will never fall out.

The obituary of the San Roque Hospital yesterday recorded a fatal case of leprosy. The horrid disease is more prevalent here than many people imagine.

There is a splendid site for sale now at the corner of Calles Callao and Cangallo. Just the thing for the new Scotch Church.

The discovery of another big smuggle in the Custom House was reported yesterday.

The unpleasantness in the Provincial Bank and the arrest of several of its clerks caused great surprise yesterday. No doubt, more will be known about the affair to-day.

People were greatly amused yesterday at the Galveston telegram from London announcing the loss of the Dinapore off Cape Corrientes, in words almost identical with those in which we noticed the wreck a few days ago. Is there a cook anywhere in the neighbourhood?

The new Director of the Custom House is Colonel of the 11th Foot. The gallant officer has, perhaps, special qualifications for the post; nevertheless, a Colonel managing the Custom House, looks rather novel, and reminds us of all the queer appointments at home "when George the Third was King." A colleague declares that Colonel Baibiene has a wonderful knowledge of commercial affairs for a military man. Iron discipline and honesty are what the Custom House needs most to set it right; and a soldier ought to be just the man to knock them into it.

Sir James Crichton Browne says the Scotch brain averages 50 ounces, the English 49 ounces, the German 48.3 ounces, and the French 48.9 ounces. Sir James is a Scotchman, which accounts for the position of that race at the head of the cerbellic procession.

"Que cosa linda! The culprit in the Editorial Bus will please rise and explain. We find the following in one of Cousin Jonathan's newspapers, most of which, by the way, appear to have extraordinary facilities for obtaining most extraordinary news about this country:—"The editor of a contemporary in Buenos Ayres has discovered a wholly original way of filling his pages. In every issue he reprints the column of local information which appeared in the corresponding number five years back, prefixed by the explanation that he feels sure his readers will be interested to learn what they were doing five years ago."

Importante Remate de 24 Leguas kilometricas
O sean 60,000 hectareas de magnifico
CAMPO
De los Territorios Nacionales, divididas en 6 lotes y situados en la Seccion IV letra A, Nos. 15, 16, 25 y 24 y Letra B Nos. 11 y 20 de la misma seccion.
Estos lotes son parte del Establecimiento El Hucal que fueron comprados por el Sr. Antonino Cambaceres.
Base para la venta 3 pesos por hectarea. Con ventajosas condiciones de pago: mitad al contado y mitad a 6 meses, sin interes y con garantia hipotecaria.
El Miercoles, 18 de Junio
A las 2 de la tarde.
En nuestra casa Alsina 482.
Remataremos por orden terminante de su dueno, siempre que exceda de la infima base arriba indicada, el campo compuesto de 60,000 hectareas.
La venta se hará por lotes de 10,000 hectareas o scan 4 leguas kilometricas.
En cuanto a la bondad de los campos podemos asegurar que son excelentes y de lo mejor de todo la Pampa Central; fueron elejidos por el finado Señor Don Antonio Cambaceres, que era competentisimo en la materia. Para mejor inteligencia de los interesados, podemos ofrecerles un informe municioso de cada lote, que obra en nuestra poder.
Su ubicacion tan proxima á Bahia Blanca, puerto importantisimo, es una ventaja que no debe perderse de vista.
El Ferro carril que actualmente se construye y que unira aquel puerto con Villa Mercedes, San Luis, cruzará estos campos y una estacion en los mismos es casi segura.
Tomando en consideracion todas estas ventajas, creemos que la base de 3 pesos m|n por hectarea es sumamente bajo.
Todo comprador sin excepcion oblará 5 o|o al realizar y firmar el boleto de compraventa. Por mas datos ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 480 y 482.

ON 'CHANGE.

PRICE OF GOLD TO-DAY.
First Ring............ 239.50

Thursday, June 12th.

Although there was a pronounced weak feeling in gold to-day from the very start of business, the decline in rates was not so important as to justify the assumption that the loan had been done, whilst, on the other hand, no news to that effect was even rumoured, it being generally said that the last touches were still wanting. So pessimistic has the market grown of late, perhaps inspired or taught by bitter experience, that it refuses now to discount expectations however promising; and although this may in the long run prove rather beneficial than otherwise, it is due to this reluctance that the rates to day did not tumble to 230. The supply of gold was superabundant, embracing over half a million for cash, the quotation opening at 246, fluctuating down to 239 and leaving off weak half a point higher. Brokers attributed this improvement to the signing of the Western Railway contract to day and the handing over to the Provincial Government of the net proceeds in bills, which can be immediately drawn against; this is, after all, a most likely view to take of the case. Stocks were not to say very buoyant, but they were able to hold their own, which is a good deal at the present critical juncture, when Catalinas are handicapped by the dull state of imports, Constructors by the unsaleable state of property and National Bank shares by the unhealthy atmosphere that recent disclosures have created around this establishment. Cedulas were in brisk movement and kept firm, which shews that the contradiction of the rumour about further issues has created a most favourable impression. The market on the whole is much improved.

The following is a summary of operations effected this afternoon during the first ring:—

At the afterhours only a small business was done, and although gold changed hands at one moment as low as 235. at 4 p.m. there were buyers offering all round at 240. Nothing was known about the loan.

Two important sales of real estate are reported. Mrs. E. Von Daving and Mr. De Lawsen have sold the Centro Agricola Alice, meaning 23,840 hectares in 9 de Julio to Mr. R. Franco for 1,430,600 dollars. The Abrile heirs have sold to Mr. Miguel Solanes 23 hectares 62 areas and 46 centareas in San Isidro for 108,668 dollars.

The following gentlemen have applied to be admitted as members of the Bolsa:— Arturo Robert, Alberto Muller, Eduardo M. Viñas, Enrique Lelustar, A. G. Thornton, H. Harrison, F. Harffen, Vicente Leonel, H. U. Hopkins.

The s.s. Hydarnes, Houston line, sails from the outer roads to-morrow. She has on board 1100 live capones from the celebrated Negrette estancia owned by Mr D A Shennan. These are shipped by Mackill, Murray and Co. of this city, and are by far the largest shipment ever made from this country, and the result will be looked forward to with considerable interest by estancieros. Should this large shipment be landed successfully it will prove, without doubt, that live stock can be shipped with considerable success from this Republic. We understand that Mackill, Murray and Co. will undertake the shipment of both sheep and cattle for account of estancieros, and no firm is in a better position for doing this business

The Vulcano is loading at present in the Boca for Asuncion and intermediate ports. She leaves on the 19th.

The balance-sheet of the National Mortgage Bank for month of May was handed round to day, and in spite of the unfavourable impression caused in the market by recent declarations, the establishment seems to be in a most flourishing state and quite in a position to allay all apprehensions about its ability to meet the service of the coupons. It is of course only natural, in view of the state of the market and the great fall in real estate values, that the bank should have some "morose" debtors, but they are quite the exception and form no impediment to the march of the establishment. We extract the following figures from the balance-sheet:—

	$ paper	Gold
Total issue of Cedulas..............	90,000,000	20,000,000
Cedulas withdrawn and paid off......	8,008,600	370,550
Cedulas on deposit.	2,418,550	52,600
Cash on deposit in National Bank...	2,608,396	447,972

It is well to note that the cash on March 31st was 3,487,211 dols. paper and 516,081 dols. gold, which was reduced to 2,460,518 dols. paper and 400,714 dols. gold in April by the payment of the service for the series A, C, D, E and H gold, which falls due on 1st to 8th April. According to the May balance sheet, the cash account has grown again, which shows that the bank's debtors are complying with their obligations.

A La Plata colleague announces that grave irregularities have been discovered in the Provincial Bank, which will lead to the dismissal of a very large number of employees. The irregularities are connected with the department in which old notes were received and supposed to be inutilized.

Montevidean advices announce a fall in National Bank shares, although the signing of the loan seems to be a matter of hours only. The meeting of shareholders of the National Company, to be held to-day, was expected to be a stormy one, owing to the great efforts of the "bears" to secure a change on the board.

The Custom House returns seem to be suffering from the spasmodic affection that agitates the gold speculation, due of course almost entirely to the prohibitive 50 o/o clause now in working. The receipts for May 1889 were 3,810,881 dollars, against 5,949,143 dols. last month, and as against 387,130 dols. received for this month up to date. The figures speak for themselves.

Cables received from London yesterday announce a slight decline in Argentine stocks generally.

It was known to-day that the charges against certain employees of the Provincial Bank have taken such definite shape that several were arrested yesterday and put in solitary confinement.

Estancieros and live-stock brokers report a great demand for capones and novillos fit for export; the late experiments in the line have given such satisfactory results that it is determined to put the business on an active footing. The Montevidean, Allan Liner, which clears from La Plata port to-morrow for Liverpool, takes a batch of 90 steers and 1500 capones all picked animals: and as the vessel will not touch at any port except San Vicente, she is expected to make the run home in 24 days. The result of the venture will be cabled out and looked forward to with much interest by all interested in the business.

The Bolsa spittoons are doomed! The Camara Sindical sent a lengthy note to-day to Dr. Don Juan Agustin Garcia, National Minister of Finance, explaining the negative results of the new Bolsa regulation which provides for the deposit in the National Bank of all the values, whether gold or paper, of time bargains in specie. As might have been anticipated all time bargains are now effected outside the liquidation and no deposit of either gold or paper takes place: merchants, dealers, and brokers will have nothing to do with the new regulation. The result is that no time bargains now figure on the black board, though the bulk of the gold business is done privately for end of month. The Camara Sindical shows the futility of the regulation and applies to Dr Garcia to suspend the effect of the decree of 19th May making that regulation in the Bolsa. The Minister of Finance answered the note immediately and this evening a decree was drawn up suspending the regulation in question and removing the fetters that bound the gold business. The same decree appoints the following Committee:—Dr F. Posse, E. Legarrate, A. Sastre, E. Quesada and C. Becu, This Committee is ordered to report to the Government on the best means of regulating time bargains in gold. Meantime, the obnoxious gold regulation is suspended till the 1st of August.

The chief of the Custom House has suspended the Manager and assistants of the Port and mole of Riachuelo, owing to irregularities in the accounts sent in.

The rate of gold fixed to-day for the Custom House is 239.50.

Sr. L. Quinteros, Governor of Tucuman, has been appointed to-day by decree as President of the Bancos "Libres."

Dr. Pacheco, President of the National Bank, and the directors Messrs. Munriz, Blanco, Rezenegua and Frias, sent in their resignations to-day; only the two last have been accepted,

We see by late London advices that the board of the Argentine Loan and Investment Company informed the shareholders that, owing to their inability to dispose of the Belgrano lands, they were not in a position to declare a dividend on the ordinary shares for 1889. In order to stimulate business it was resolved to make an issue of 4 o/o debentures at £93 o/o.

We clip the following about Argentine affairs from the Times of May 8th. The allusion to a 4 million loan sterling is taken to mean the Municipal loan, which is for that amount, the Government loan being for 10 millions sterling:—

"The Argentine stocks, as well as the various Cedula issues, were flat, owing partly to the rise in the gold premium, the National Cedulas A and B series declining ½ and ¾ to 45½ and 46¼, the Buenos Ayres Cedulas I and J series 1½ each to 40 and 37½, and the K and P series 1 and ½ to 31½ and 28½ respectively. Uruguayan "Sixes," however, rose ½ to 87½. It was not known until after business hours that the Argentine Government had signed the contract for the issue of a £4,000,000 sterling loan with Messrs. Baring Brothers.

"From the Bank to day 112,000 sovereigns were withdrawn, 100,000 being for Lisbon and the balance for South America."

Mr. Luis Godoy has sold the house Salta 935 for 29,000 to F. Lavisumbe.

The new directors of the National Bank are Messrs Mariano Unzue, Francisco Bustamante, Ramon B. Muñez and Ramon M. Blanco; the two last are re-elected.

Dr. Nicolas Videla has been named 1st vice and Mr. Marcelo Paz 2nd vice president of the Provincial Bank in La Plata. The Committees were formed as follows:

Comision de Descuentos—Gmo. Walker, E. Almiron, E. Fernandez, J. Borbon and R Pividal.

Asuntos Judiciales—D. Frias, N. Videla, J. F. Acosta.

Sucursales—Antonio Marco del Pont, S Unzue, B. Roca.

Comision Financiera—Juan Videla, A Bosch and Marcelo Paz.

Llavero—T. Mendez.

Sr. Acevedo and Dr. Miguel Laurencena bought some land for which they paid partly in cash and partly in two promissory notes, with a charge on the land, for $275,000. Afterwards they sold the land to the Banco Industrial y Constructor for one million dollars in shares at their nominal value, of which 600,000 were delivered and the rest were retained until payment of the said notes. The bank did not pay the notes, and Messrs. Acevedo and Laurencena have brought an action to compel the bank to do so.

Messrs. Luis Godoy and Co. sold yesterday the house Balcarce 1010 for $20,000, the buyer being Mr. J. B. Machiavelo.

The Times, of May 12th, says:—

"In presenting the report of the English Bank of Rio de Janeiro (Limited), the directors observe that it refers to the business of the bank for ten months only, it having been found necessary to close the books at the end of December instead of, as formerly, at the end of February. The report of the bank is for ten months ended. The gross profits for this period, after allowing for rebate of interest on current bills and drafts and interest on deposits, and making full provision for bad and doubtful debts, amount to £144,208. From this have to be deducted all charges at the head office and the branches, amounting to £69,736, leaving a net profit of £74,422, to which has to be added the balance of £7,001 brought forward from the previous year making together £81,423. Out of this sum the directors, in accordance with the articles of association, have set apart and added to the reserve fund the sum of £10,000. A dividend on account of 8 shillings per share amounting to £20,000 was paid in December; and it is now recommended that a further dividend of 8s. per share, payable on June 2 next, amounting to £90,000, free of income-tax, be paid, making a distribution of 16s. per share, or 8 per cent on the paid-up capital of the bank, in respect of the ten months' working. After providing for the dividend on account already paid, and for the payment of the dividend now recommended, there will remain at credit of profit and loss account the sum of £31,423, out of which the directors recommend a further appropriation to reserve fund of £15,000, thus raising the amount at the credit of that found to £175,000 and leaving at credit of profit and loss account a balance of £16,423, which they propose should be carried forward. A resolution will be proposed at the ensuing general meeting to increase the number of directors to eight—at present, by the articles of association and until the bank in general meeting otherwise resolve, limited to seven. Assuming that this resolution be passed, the directors will then propose that Mr Reginald J. Neild, lately arrived from Buenos Ayres, be elected a member of the board.

Tender for Salvage
The undersigned hereby calls for tenders for the salvage of the iron barque "Dinapore" and cargo, actually ashore about 120 miles S.W. of Cape Corrientes, and about 110 miles from the port of Bahia Blanca.
The iron barque Dinapore is of 1047 measure register, and was built in 1863. Her cargo consists of, more or less
600 tons iron sleepers
40 " keys
200 " tie bars
40 " fish bolts
600 " cast iron pipes
the total value of which is about £21,000, and is consigned to Messrs Hume Bros. at Bahia Blanca.
Tenders are to be made on the principle of "no cure no pay," and to be based on a percentage of values recovered. Those for the cargo being calculated on same delivered in Bahia Blanca, and for the vessel delivered in the port of Buenos Ayres, and said offers are to be presented in the office of the undersigned, on or before noon of Friday 13th inst.
The "Dinapore" lies 4 miles from the shore on a soft bottom and when left by the captain on the 1st inst. was lying quite upright and with all masts and rigging standing.

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.
This company is prepared to supply the Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machines, with their accessories, in any quantities. They are now coming into general use in Australia, where, during the past season upwards of 7,000,000 of sheep have been shorn by them; and it is confidently expected that over 20,000,000 will be shorn by them in that country this year. The following are some of their proved advantages over the ordinary shears:—
Estimated at per sheep per clip.
(1) Increase is quantity and value of wool (See testimonials).... 11d.
(2) Increased value of pelts owing to total absence of cuts.... 1
(3) Saving of 1 per cent, usual allowance for deaths resulting from cuts and tabs.... 2¼
(4) Saving of labor and time, as the work can be performed in half the time usually occupied with the old style of shearing.... 1¾
Total per clip per sheep.... 16d.
(5) Total absence of suffering to the sheep.
These economies add enormously to the income of the Australian wool-growers, and are applicable relatively to sheep-farmers everywhere.
The Wolseley machines may be seen in actual work at the Agricultural Rural Exhibition at Palermo.
For further particulars apply to the agents, Messrs. Agar, Cross & Co., Calle Defensa 124 & 136, Buenos Ayres, where certificates and testimonials can be seen.

"Curative Paste"
BUCHANAN.
Colonia (B. O.), May 1890
Gentlemen—
Having recently accepted the Agency for the "Sale of Curative Paste" for this Republic, I have great pleasure in introducing this dip to your notice.
This dip has been found unrivalled by some of the largest Estancieros that have used it for some time past and this great success has induced the manufacturer to bring it more prominently before the sheep-farming Republic.
As a cure of Scab it is the most effective, and as a preventive the most permanent that has ever been offered to the public. Scab CANNOT EXIST where "CURATIVE PASTE" is used.
As an economiser of time, labour and expense, it is decidedly the best; curings are less frequent, the necessity of extra men is avoided and consequently less expense incurred.
But in addition to this, we claim and can prove that sheep cured with this dip yield a vastly superior quality and greater quantity of wool than those cured with other dips.
These are advantages that a sheep-farmer cannot, and will not, overlook if he wishes to manage his animals profitably.
Try a sample and satisfy yourselves that in recommending "Curative Paste" to be the most effective, the safest and cheapest dip existing we do but claim that which is admitted by all who use it. (Vide testimonial.)
Yours truly
ARTHUR JAS. KELLY.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's
CHLORODYNE.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE
Advice to Invalids.—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.
CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.
CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.
CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.
CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.
From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances "ad infinitum" of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhoea, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's from a firm Conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.
Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J. Collis Browne, was, undoubtedly, the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.
Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.
Sole Manufacturer—J. T. DAVENPORT, 33 Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.
